DEADLINES:

Tufts Internal ‘Email of Intent’ Deadline: February 19, 2016 by 5pm
Application Deadline: May 1, 2016

Tufts University has been invited to submit nominations for the King Faisal International Prize. The Limited Submissions Committee will hold an internal competition to identify the best candidate for this nomination. For those interested in making a self-nomination, or nominating a colleague, please send an email of intent to the Limited Submissions Team at limitedsubmissions@tufts.edu. EOI’s received after the deadline will not be considered. Please email the Limited Submissions Team for information regarding delivery of non-electronica material. The email of intent needs to include:

1. The name of the solicitation
2. The name and CV/biosketch of the investigator, and
3. Original copies of each nominated paper or book.

PROGRAM INFORMATION: Launched by the King Faisal Foundation (KFF) the King Faisal International Prize (KFIP) in Medicine recognizes the outstanding works of individuals and institutions. KFIP winners are evaluated only based on merit and specialized selection committees meticulously examine their works. The strict selection procedure meets international standards, and many of the laureates who have been awarded the prize went on to receive other prestigious prizes, such as the Nobel Prize. Subjects in Medicine reflect current areas of international human health concern.

One is considered qualified to win the King Faisal International Prize for Medicine if they have carried out and published an original scientific research on Biologic Therapeutics in Autoimmune Disease, with major benefits to humanity, and meeting one or more of the prize’s objectives as determined by the respective Selection Committee:

- Nominated works must be published, benefit mankind and enrich human knowledge.
- Dissertations are not accepted.
- The prize is not awarded posthumously.

AWARD INFORMATION: Winners will receive $200,000, a gold medallion, and a certificate describing their work.
